

Miraculous Escapes, Music and More: A Family's Story

A Multi-media Event

"The packed auditorium of Jews and Christians was rewarded both in moral and historical content and in sheer, tasteful talent on display. Outstanding!" --Abigail Martin, Ph.D., Professor of Philosophy, Brooklyn College (April 7, 2013, after the show's debut)

Bucks County singer, songwriter, pianist and actress Lori Rosolowsky and the Temple Judea Choir present Miraculous Escapes, Music and More: A Family's Story. Rosolowsky shares poignant and humorous stories of her relatives' unlikely escapes from Nazi persecution and the lasting impact they made after arriving in America. Temple Judea's choir joins Rosolowsky in singing music by her great uncle, renowned Jewish composer Herbert Fromm, as well as Rosolowsky's own compositions, interwoven between stories of her family's enduring contributions in many fields.

Herbert Fromm was the last survivor of an influential group of Jewish composers who emigrated from Central Europe during the Nazi period. He endeavored to add a new dimension to the music of the American synagogue by writing of humanity's desire for unity—a motif shared by his descendent Rosolowsky in her own music and frequent performances benefiting local communities. The Temple Judea Choir sings Fromm's "23rd Psalm" as well as Rosolowsky's frequently performed "Pass It On"—an inspiring anthem of human connection that has been performed by the Bucks County Symphony and many area schools.

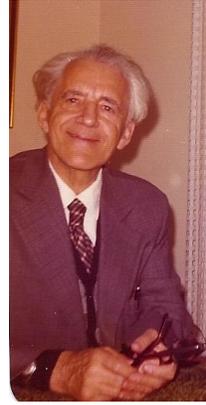

In addition, the show features video memoirs of Rosolowsky's aunt, Edith Coliver, who was only 23 when she translated for Hermann Goering—Hitler's designated successor—and other high-level Nazis at the Nuremberg Trials. She later worked as a human rights activist and became the first woman to hold leadership roles in several international and Jewish organizations.

This program is available with smaller numbers of musicians as circumstances warrant. Program length: 60 minutes to 90 minutes based on client's preferences. Same fees apply regardless of length.

ABOUT LORI ROSOLOWSKY

Lori Rosolowsky is one of Bucks County's most versatile performers: an Oberlin-trained classical pianist who has performed with the Bucks County Symphony; an in-demand musical educator who has engaged thousands of school students; a jazz-infused singer-songwriter in the vein of Carole King and Carly Simon; and the producer, writer and performer of solo and ensemble theatrical shows. She creates music that inspires people to make the world a better place. Her original song about election integrity, "If You Wanna Be A Voter (The Ballad of Sarasota)," was a finalist in the 2008 South Florida Folk Festival, received national radio airplay, and was used as the theme song for the "Voice of the Voters" radio show.
